Statement From Councilman Oliver Murray Regarding Haddad and Weingarten

I have waited until December 17, of this year to obtain a copy of the Judgment rendered against our former City Attorney Saul Weingarten and to obtain a copy of the First District Court Of Appeals, State of California, affirmation of that judgment. I want to present copies of those documents to the news media so as to prevent any further "whitewash" of the Weingarten matter. The appellate court fully sustained the Monterey County Superior Court with some slight modifications as follows:

IN THE COURT OF APPEAL OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
FIRST APPELLATE DISTRICT, DIVISION 4

MARIE PARKER,
Plaintiff and Respondent, vs.
SAUL M. WEINGARTEN,
Defendant and Appellant.

Saul M. Weingarten, an attorney, appeals from a judgment awarding damages in the amount of $12,880 to his former client, respondent Marie Parker, upon causes of action for breach of trust and malpractice. In a summary trial, the court originally granted judgment for $21,301.78. Reduction of the judgment to $12,880 was consented to by respondent, (in effect eliminating $3,421.78 general damages and $5,000 exemplary damages) to avoid a conditional order granting new trial. The major question on appeal is the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain the findings and the judgment as modified. We modify and affirm the judgment.

There were 47 Findings of Law and six Special Findings and nine Conclusions of Law, all upheld by the appellate court with the exception to a money matter shown above. Included under "Finding, number 23" of the Superior court

Datebook For Peace On Sale

"War is not healthy for children and other living things." That's the slogan of an organization called Another Mother For Peace. It claims over 200,000 members in the United States and other countries and its purpose is obvious in its name: mothers and all concerned citizens joined to promote peace, taking the stance that as nurturers of life, they are responsible to see that it's not taken away by politicians and institutions that solve problems by killing.

Another Mother For Peace has now come up with a book to promote its point of view. It's a 1971 datebook, "Another Mother's Datebook For Peace." It is a handsome 123-page, soft-cover volume. Like a regular date-book, it has space to note appointments and such.

But there are also detailed suggestions as to what can be done almost daily to promote peace, reminders of and comments of historical events, pictures of happy mothers and children, letters from members, children and other peace-promoters.

There are pointers on how to promote the peace idea among friends, on how to write to politicians, how generally to make views heard.

Suggestions for peace-oriented activities on particular days include: Mother's Day, "Take the Mother's Day cards you receive, write a message on the back urging a mutual cease fire in Vietnam and mail them to President Nixon and to your senators." Flag Day, "Fly your flag and display your 'War is not healthy.' poster or some other peace symbol in your window."

September 10, "Take a look through your child's history book to see how war is portrayed. If it's glamorized, send a note of protest to your local board of education." September 27, "Phone or visit the principal of your local high school and ask if students are being given information regarding legal alternatives to draft." October 4, "National Employ-the Physically-Handicapped Week. A quarter of a million wounded Vietnam veterans need jobs. Can your husband or his employer help?"

April 15, "Income Tax Day. Send one penny to Secretary of Treasury David Kennedy, saying that while you're being taxed for war, you will gladly pay for a Department of Peace. To people not involved in the peace movement, the shibboleths and some of the pictures and suggestions in the datebook are likely to seem heavy and depressing. But that could be because they unequivocally remind the reader of the absurdity of war and of the real possibility that one's own children could be victims.

The Monterey Peninsula now has a community peace organization affiliated with Another Mother For Peace and Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. The name of the new group is "MOTHERS AND OTHERS FOR PEACE."

Another Mother For Peace Datebook, as well as all Another Mother For Peace products, may be purchased at the 3 Rings Bookshop, 6 Old Fisherman's Wharf or at Junipero Serra Shop, 101 Pearl Street in Monterey and at the Camera Exchange, 549 Lighthouse Avenue, Pacific Grove. The items are also available through individual group members.

Mothers and Others For Peace will be sending Christmas mail to "peace prisoners" in cells of conscience and will be active in educating citizens to build peace and eliminate war. For further information concerning Mothers and Others For Peace, call Mrs. Nancy Shirey at 375-1610.

HOME COMING - Among servicemen returning from Vietnam on new homecoming USA flight series for Christmas holidays, was Command Sgt. Major Wilbert E. Hopkins of 1700 Harding St., Seaside, who arrived aboard a World Airways 707 jet at Oakland International Airport on Wednesday, December 23. He was met by his wife, Mildred "Homecoming--USA" flights are operated by the USO and World Airways. Servicemen with at least four months in Vietnam and not more than eight months, are eligible for 14-day leave in U.S., recently announced by General Creighton W. Abrams, Commanding General Military Assistance Command-Vietnam.

Call For Bids

Two traffic safety improvement projects for State highways in Monterey County were approved for funding recently by the California Highway Commission during a business meeting held in Sacramento. Route 1 traffic signals and highway lighting now installed at Ocean Avenue near Carmel will be renovated. Additional traffic channels will be installed as part of the same contract. The new channels will provide storage areas where drivers intent on making left turns can wait safely until there is no oncoming traffic.

The estimated cost for the work is $95,000. It will be paid by the California Division of Highways.

The second project also calls for modifying existing highway lighting. The work will take place at several different Route 68 and Route 101 locations.

The estimated cost of $50,000 will be paid by the Division.

Both projects were recommended for approval by Commissioner Robert Herdman of Solvang.

Foster Teens Make Gifts

Teen aged girls in two foster homes here on the peninsula are expressing the Christmas spirit in an active way.

The girls, all wards of the court, have spent the past few weeks busily being Santa's helpers for Mrs. Mathew's Seaside Rest Home.

Residents of the Home received slippers, hankies, handkerchiefs and toiletries made, packaged and presented by the girls themselves a few days before Christmas.

Not something new is this Christmas project, for girls in these two foster homes have enjoyed the giving experience two years in the past.

This project became a reality with the donation of various Wards in Monterey and Sproule Reitz on Fremont in Seaside.

Highway Taxes Distributed

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy has announced the distribution of $58,797,506 among the State, cities and counties as the November apportionment of highway users taxes.

Monterey County's share was $187,306.05 and Seaside's share was $24,715.97.

A total of $15,241,508 was distributed to the counties; $11,421,546 to cities and $32,137,572 for expenditures on State highways.

The total was derived from the following sources: gasoline tax, $55,047,139; diesel fuel tax, $3,748,698; miscellaneous, $1,669.

Gasoline tax available for the November apportionment dropped $456,169 from the prior month, but the diesel fuel tax share increased $745,669. The net increase over October was $290,374.

The distribution was $6,153,798 lower than that for November 1969. The gasoline tax dropped $4,075,702 from a year ago following removal of a one-cent per gallon temporary tax increase to finance flood damage repairs. Diesel fuel tax dropped $31,462, and the November 1969 transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund was $2,058,141 against none this November.

The latter is attributable to the Budget Act of 1970-71 which earmarked $18,000,000 of the Transportation Tax Fund for transfer to the School Fund instead of transfer to the Highway Users Tax Fund. So far, a total of $10,102,674 has been transferred to the School Fund.

Admission Forms Are Available

Persons planning to enter the day program at Monterey Peninsula College in the spring semester have been urged to file all required admission materials "as soon as possible" to avoid a "last-minute rush."

In issuing the announcement, Registrar Louise White pointed out that all legal residents of the college district who have graduated from high school or who are 18 years of age or older "and can profit from education" are eligible to enroll, as are students transferring from other colleges who meet certain standards.

A list of necessary application materials is contained in an admissions brochure, obtainable on request in the college administration building. Catalogs are on sale in the bookstore in the College Center.

All new students intending to enroll in eight units or more of study or in any course in English, speech or the social sciences and who have not completed English 101 or its equivalent in college, are required to take a placement examination. This test will be given in Lecture Forum 103 January 9 and 16 at 8:30 a.m. and January 25 at 6:30 p.m.

Mail registration for evening classes began on Monday, December 28. Brochures and registration forms are available in the administration building.

Publisher's Report Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

On the occasion of the start of the New Year, 1971, we would like to extend to all of our readers and advertisers our most heartfelt good wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year. We would also like to review the aims and purposes for which this newspaper stands and the reason for its very existence. We do this at this time because we believe that there exists a conspiracy in our city which is doing all it can to silence the "Voice of the People" and to destroy any vehicle by which that voice can be heard. We take the liberty of reprinting the first two paragraphs from our column "RIPPLES" which appeared in our first issue of May 22, 1969.

A.E. Barragan

"The wise man is he who loves and reveres God. A man's merit lies in his knowledge and in his deeds, not in his color, faith, race or descent. For remember, my friend, the son of a shepherd who possesses knowledge is of greater worth to a nation than the heir to a throne, if he be ignorant. Knowledge is your true patent of nobility, no matter who your father or what your race may be." KAHILIL GIBRAN author of 'THE PROPHET'.

"We are starting a weekly newspaper in SEASIDE that will begin as a ripple of information through the community. A ripple that will turn into a wave of activity and participation by all the people of the city. SEASIDE, now the largest city on the Monterey Peninsula, deserves a newspaper which will serve the needs of ALL of its citizens - Black, Filipino and Mexican, as

The selection of Peter Garcia, 40, as Manager of the U.S. Civil Service Commission Los Angeles Area Office, was announced recently by Asa, T. Briley, Director of the Commission's San Francisco Region.

Announcing the appointment Briley said, "Mr. Garcia's excellent background in personnel administration, his effective work with minority group citizens and his fluency in Spanish will help us to provide effective service in general and will strengthen our relationships with all minorities, including Spanish-speaking citizens in the Los Angeles area."

At the time of his selection, Garcia was Chief of Personnel Management Evaluation in the Commission's Denver Regional Office with additional duties as Chairman of the Civil Rights Committee of the Denver Federal Executive Board.

Druggists Are Tops

Druggists, with an average net of $11 000 in 1967, led all other independent retailers in profitability, according to a report just issued by the Internal Revenue Service.

This comparison of incomes reported by unincorporated, independent businessmen and other statistical information appear in "Statistics of Income-1967, Business Income Tax Returns."

The 382-page publication compares incomes into a considerable amount of detail on the financial activities of numerous subcategories of businesses, particularly unincorporated ones, in farming, mining, construction transportation, manufacturing, finance, trade and services.

The new IRS publication is the most recent in a series of annually published Statistics of Income reports concerning business activity and is available at many public and university libraries. The 1967 business report can also be purchased for $3.50 from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

CARSON CITY

Carson City, Nevada, is reported to be the smallest capital city in the United States.

Animal Abuse Bill Passes Senate

Awaiting the President's signature is a bill that broadens federal protection of animals against cruelty, abuse and neglect in zoos, circuses and research facilities.

Called the Laboratory Animal Welfare Act of 1970, it covers their treatment by wholesale dealers in dogs, cats and other warm blooded animals while in storage or shipment.

The bill was approved by the Senate on December 2. A companion bill had previously passed the House.

The bill contains two provisions strongly urged by the Society for Animal Protective Legislation. One elaborates standards to insure proper ventilation, feeding, sanitation and space when animals are stored or transported. A second provision requires that research facilities make annual reports stating what methods they used to insure humane treatment of animals during experimentation.

The legislation also extends protection against "brutal treatment and indifferent storage" of animals housed at zoos and circuses and authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to "promulgate standards to govern humane handling, care, treatment and transportation."

Several loopholes in the original law first introduced in 1966 would also be closed. The new bill requires the Department of Agriculture to make annual reports to the Congress detailing violations and prosecutions, increases the scope of penalties for violation of the act and adds administrative provision to improve detection and prosecution of violations.

The bill specifically excludes local retail pet shops as well as state and county fairs, rodeos and purebred dog and cat shows. Farm animals also are not covered, nor are livestock and poultry used in agricultural research.

Treasury Agents Are Needed

A number of immediate vacancies for Treasury Enforcement Agent are expected at Federal establishments in Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

In order to meet this need in the San Francisco Area Office of the U.S. Civil Service Commission has issued an announcement for this position.

Starting salaries for these positions range from $6548 to $10868 per year depending on the education or experience of the applicant.

Information and application forms may be secured at most large Post Offices, Federal Job Information Centers and from the Personnel Offices of most large Federal installations or at the Federal Job Information Center at 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, 94102, telephone (415) 556-6867.

Autorama Will Be Top Show

Bigger and better than ever is the forecast for the annual San Jose Autorama, an event featuring displays of numerous brilliant and unusual custom-made cars that will take place at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds January 15-16-17.

More and more enthusiasm about the San Jose Autorama is being generated as time passes and sponsors of the show have announced the biggest reason for their enthusiasm about the upcoming event.

The San Jose Autorama has become part of the coast-to-coast series known as the International Championship Auto Shows and because contestants will receive points toward national championships more entries than ever before are anticipated.

Hot rod and custom car shows have become a tremendous part of the hot-rodding sport. In the field of custom car shows, the International Championship Auto Shows lead the way with more than 125 events this year stretching from coast to coast in the United States and encompassing three countries—the U.S., Canada and Great Britain.

Promoted by Bob Barkheimer Associates and managed by Paul Bender, the San Jose Autorama is being presented for the 21st time. Last year, approximately 35,000 people attended the show—an average of better than 10,000 per day. Some of them drove 200 miles or more.

Initial aims of the International Championship Auto Shows (ICAS), of which the San Jose Autorama has proudly become a part, were to develop a standard and recognized procedure for competition. This has become a reality and the ICAS now offers all entries in its shows a uniform system throughout the series to enable them to compete for points. The series has grown from six shows in 1959-60 to 125 this year.

To be eligible for national points, a contestant must display his custom-made car at four shows. Signing of the San Jose Autorama makes this more possible for a greater number of contestants, giving them still another opportunity to have their creations judged.

Seaside Ripples

well as White. This paper will work hard at turning that ripple into a real wave by presenting all of the news that space will allow in an impartial manner."

We have tried for the last 19 months to do just that. The ripple which we helped breathe has turned 'into a wave of activity and participation by all of the people of this city.' This activity and participation was first demonstrated in the last city elections where the people turned out the two members of the city council who consistently supported the "special interests" and who were part of the conspiracy, which included Mayor Haddad, and replaced them with two council members who have consistently tried to carry out the will of the majority of the people in Seaside.

A few months ago we pointed out in our column that the Monterey Herald, through its editorials and columns, was supporting the recall of our duly elected city councilmen and again trying to impose its will on the people of Seaside and their political affairs. At that time, we also pointed out that the Monterey Herald had always been the spokesman for the "special interests" who would like to keep the people and the city of Seaside in a vassal state to do the bidding of the Pebble Beach-Monterey interests. The Monterey Herald upon the firing of City Attorney Saul Weingarten printed articles extolling the virtues of the former City Attorney and lamenting the fact of his firings in so many words.

What the Monterey Herald has failed to tell it's readers in any detail is that Saul Weingarten lost his appeal to the District Court of Appeal of the State of California in which the Appellate Court upheld the "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" which included damages to his former client, Marie Parker, of $12,880. "upon caused of action for breach of trust and malpractice." The Herald must know of this decision since it was filed on November 4, 1969 and we have not heard of any change in that decision by any higher court.

The monopoly of the Monterey Herald in news and advertising on the Monterey peninsula, including Seaside, had been virtually complete until the advent of the Seaside POST and News Sentinel on the Seaside scene. Apparently not satisfied with that monopoly and evidently fearful of any inroads the POST may have been making on that monopoly, the Herald has been circulating among our advertisers a crudely reprinted "Statement of Ownership, Management and Circulation" from our report to the Post Office Department. They have been telling our advertisers that our entire circulation is represented by the "Paid Circulation" shown in that report as 1647 total copies when actually we have ten times that much circulation or 16,500 in the POST, News-Sentinel and Peddler editions as shown in our published VERIFIED AUDIT CIRCULATION report (see ad page 2) for the last three months of 1970. The Herald salesmen who have been telling our advertisers these big lies, know full well that report only reflected the "Paid" circulation and that it didn't include the other "controlled, free" circulation in Seaside, Fort Ord, Marina, La Mesa Village and parts of Monterey and the Presidio.

We are not fearful of the Herald; we have always told advertisers that it is a good media for advertising in the area, that they cover most that is Monterey Pebble Beach and parts of Pacific Grove. We are resentful of its editorial intrusion into the affairs of our city, in their representation of those outside interests who would control the destinies of our citizens in Seaside. The advertisers who have told me of the mis-representations by the Herald advertising salesmen have been most indignant that such a large institution would stoop to such a low practice.

We are not suprised. We have been in the newspaper business for a long time and we know that the "powers that be" do not go down easy. They cannot allow the people of any city or state to take matters in their own hands. They are too used to calling the shots and will stoop to any means to silence any person or organ of news dissemination which does not agree with their chosen views. This is only part of a "conspiracy" that exists, which is trying to silence the only legal newspaper of the City of Seaside by attempting to cut off our revenue from our advertisers to force us to either close our doors or to be silent about the injustices which the "special interest" would like to continue to perpetuate on the people of Seaside. They won't succeed; the people of Seaside won't let them. They will continue to support our newspaper and its advertisers.

Councilman Oliver Murray Statement

filed April 1, 1968 is the following.

The aforesaid conduct of WEINGARTEN was in violation of Sections 2228 - 2233 of the California Civil Code in the following respects:

a. In matters connected with his trust for plaintiff WEINGARTEN failed to act in the highest good faith toward his beneficiary; he obtained advantage therein over plaintiff by failing to disclose interest in ALLNAV, INC.

b. WEINGARTEN used and dealt with the trust property for his own benefit.

c. WEINGARTEN as trustee for plaintiff took part in transactions concerning the trust in which he had an interest adverse to that of beneficiary.

d. WEINGARTEN used the influence of his position to obtain unfair advantage from plaintiff.

e. While remaining trustee for the benefit of plaintiff WEINGARTEN undertook other trusts adverse in their nature to the interest of this beneficiary without the consent of the latter.

f. Upon acquiring an interest adverse to the interest of plaintiff, WEINGARTEN failed to immediately inform plaintiff of said adverse interest.

g. WEINGARTEN mingled the trust property with his own; he used trust property for purposes unconnected with the trust.

Every signature to a petition for the recall today is a signature to endorse and license the kind of vice illustrated in the exact terms of the above judgment and any Citizen has to be hypnotically seduced to think that this shake-down system applies to little old ladies only.

When the new City Council was elected in April a great hue and cry was heard from the Mayor about the loss of his automatic majority. He questioned the judgment of the people in repudiating the "progress" that he and his council represented. That "progress" is a wide open topic, too broad for this communication. Saul M. Weingarten, deposed Seaside City Attorney, a center of controversy for many years, had been an issue in the campaign. This stemmed from a Fraud and Malpractice judgment sustained against him in November 1969. The question of his retention by the city in view of the above cited judgment had come before the Council several times previously. Because of "loyalties" owed him by former Councilmen and our Mayor the merits of the questions were uniformly rejected by a broadside of invective from our Mayor.

When Mr. Weingarten's appeal was reported the attacks on him were simply vicious. He pleaded that all the issues of law but simple negligence were vacated, and that simple mistake should not be fatal to his position. I reflected on Shakespeare's words from the Merchant of Venice, "Remember, though justice be thy plea, consider this, that in the course of justice none of us should see salvation; we do pray for mercy, and that same prayer doth teach us to render the deeds of mercy." Accordingly I gave Mr. Weingarten my vote subject to his Supreme Court Appeal.

Advocates of an opposite view sent me a copy of the trial court judgement. I read it, reflected that I was probably more charitable than just, but that an opposite course would only produce damaging division on the Council without remedying the problem.

only produce damaging division on the Council without remedying the problem.

In 1970, however, a series of actions in which Mr. Weingarten conducted himself in his public office exactly as he had toward Mrs. Marie Parker confirmed my judgement. I sought his dismissal. This immediately precipitated the Recall. The Herald has sympathized with and supported the Recall. It has taken sides while attempting to display a detached attitude.

If this were not enough, further investigation revealed Monterey Superior Court Case #61238, October 7, 1969, involving plaintiff Elizabeth Lyle Schacht vs. Harlo P. Rotherland, Saul M. Weingarten of substantially the same character involving a conspiracy to deny the plaintiff her settlement in a divorce proceeding by hypothe-cating assets due the plaintiff of nearly $69,000. This was certainly more than enough evidence to sustain a reasonable conclusion that public trust for Mr. Weingarten in Seaside would be to invite public peril to the community.

The malice of the matter is how the Haddad-Weingarten alliance engineers disruption, distrust, and political dispair in Seaside. Let us look at the past year alone--

1. The sale of the property called the "Pit" was promoted by the Mayor on the premise that it was a crime center. This was completely refuted by a letter of the Seaside Police Chief.
2. The "Seaside 19" case and the conduct by the Mayor at Council hearings which preceded the criminal prosecution.
3. The firing of our City Engineer in which the Mayor defamed the man to the point where the papers dared not relate the statements.
4. The repeated assertions by the Mayor that the Council has denied him the authority of his office. This is deliberate misrepresentation because California Law gives no authority to a Mayor of a General Law City other than his legislative power as a Councilman. It is simply the title of the Chairman of the meeting.

The Appellate Court decision which precisely portrays the ex-City Attorney's capacity for calculated exploitation of fiduciary trusts refers to Mr. Weingarten's vice. To condone the conditions imposed by his assertions and silences this year would have been no less than to endorse a vice ring in city hall. In fact, this recall is quite obviously designed to obtain a ratification of two talents-falsehood and breach of trust. They are conspicuously wedded to one another in the persons of Messers. Haddad and Weingarten.

The most fertile ground for economic exploitation is the sanctity of public office. The reason for Mr. Haddad's defense and total advocacy and commitment to Mr. Weingarten is the fact that Mr. Weingarten represents his opportunity to exploit the multiple opportunities of public life.

Mr. Haddad in his history of falsehood and his lies with regard to the present recall and other matters in the public life of our city needs a capacity for corruption to give it legal dignity. Mr. Haddad's own newspaper, in an evaluation of Mr. Haddad, said that - "there is no middle ground, that it is either Haddad's Council or else." This is a discredit to the progress that has been made in this town. That this town

Volvo Sales Are Soaring

Another record retail month for Volvo in November has pushed its year-to-date sales over the 40,000 mark for the first time in 13 years of selling the Swedish imports in this country. At 4,451 units, Volvo sales total out at precisely 40,602 units for the 11-month period giving it an edge of 1,776 units over the best previous 12-month total set in 1968.

"Last month's sale total," according to Volvo Inc. President Sig Jansson, "Also made November the best sales month we've ever had. This year at Volvo we've managed to string together 11 successive record months. It only remains for us now to establish how far 1970 will run ahead of all our previous years by the time December draws to a close," said Jansson.

"For comparison's sake, our sales this November are 70 percent better than they were for the same month last year. Compared to the similar 11-month period last year, they're 21 percent better. Even more interesting for us is the fact that we've also made a total of 3965 tourist deliveries so far - a 42 percent improvement over last year. If we add tourist deliveries to our retail sales, we come up with a grand total of 44,567 sales this year - a figure more than comfortably beyond the 40,000 barrier."

"Quality-conscious consumers, we feel, who more than ever are recognizing the quality we've always made a point of building into our cars, deserve a good share of the credit for rising Volvo sales. New car buyers, more than ever, are looking for measurable, practical value. And Volvo obviously is filling that need by offering them a dollar-for-dollar quality return," he said.

should have been harrassed and intimidated for eight months in order to dignify the absolutism of one Louis Haddad, while Louis Haddad lamented for many, many months the destructiveness of a Recall. The hypocrisy of the situation is that he is going door to door asking people to recall his duly elected council.

The total issue of this campaign is a vindication and the licensing of any vice that has been demonstrated with their capacity by Haddad, Weingarten and Dolan. And above all, the absolutism of a hypocritical recall to subordinate this city to the absolutism of Haddad.

Visitors Welcomed

Mrs. Norman Gaither and her daughter, Mrs. Anita Johnson of Providence, Kentucky and Evansville, Indiana visited the city of Seaside and were the house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sloan.

Mrs. Gaither is also the mother of the late Mrs. Lucita Sloan, daughter-in-law of the Sloans and a former employee of Camera Masters. Miss Lea Ann Williams traveled all the way from Santa Barbara, where she is enrolled in Brooks Institute of Photography, to help her parents entertain Mrs. Gaither and Mrs. Johnson.

Having been taken on a scenic cruise of the Monterey Peninsula by the Sloans, the Williams entertained the visitors with a Champagne-Seaside Dinner at the Jolly Rogue on Monterey's Fisherman's Wharf.

Before departing for Berkeley to visit relatives, the visitors worshipped at Hays Christian Methodist Episcopal Church where Lucita had been an associate member.

Mrs. Gaither made the trip to Seaside to meet the many friends of her late daughter, who met with a fatal car accident several months ago.

Computer System Is Working Well

According to State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr., everything about the new computerized reservation system is going as planned. Beginning January 4, anyone wishing to camp at a state park campground will be able to walk up to any of 230 Ticketron terminals around the state to make a paid, confirmed reservation.

"It's just that simple," Mott said. "We tried computerized reservations at state parks last year, but unfortunately the company providing the service was not able to remain in business and we had to finish out the year taking reservations by mail. The service was in effect long enough, however, to show us that such a system was not only practicable but acceptable to the public."

Mott added that the new company, Ticketron, Inc., has been taking reservations for tours at Hearst San Simeon State Historic Park since November 23 and the program has been working out extremely well.

He said that something new has been added this year for those who cannot plan their vacations more than a few months ahead. "We are accepting campground reservations only up to 90 days in advance. Now, those who can't plan their vacations early in the year will not be at a disadvantage. They will have as good a chance as anyone else of getting a campsite in any park they chose."

The cost for making reservations, in addition to the $1.50 charge for undeveloped campsites, $3 charge for developed campsites or $4 for trailer sites with hookups, is $1.50 for each campsite or block of time reserved.

For example, a family wanting to camp for 15 days (the maximum period for which a campsite may be reserved) at the San Clemente State Beach would pay the regular $45 camping fee plus $1.50 for the reservation.

Information regarding reservations and state park campgrounds may be obtained at the Ticketron terminal at the Sears store, 1002 S. Main Street, Salinas.

If none is handy, reservations may be made directly with the department as its headquarters in Sacramento. Again, the $1.50 reservation fee will be charged. For information and reservation forms, write or visit the Reservation Office, State Department of Parks and Recreation, 1416 Ninth Street, Sacramento 95814.

On December 18, Maurice and Betty Mann treated their children to a weekend Christmas gift shopping tour in Los Angeles and a full day of merriment and fun at Disneyland. They choose the weekend of December 18 to visit Disneyland because there was a special Christmas show and program schedule there. Despite the rainy weather, the Mann family enjoyed the excitement and fun of Disneyland. The special program consisted of a parade of Disneyland characters down the beautiful, Christmas decorated Main Street in Disneyland. The parade came to a halt in front of a platform that was arranged around a massive beautifully decorated white Xmas tree.

A group of hundreds of cultured voices from the churches of Los Angeles county sang a medley of Christmas carols, accompanied by an orchestra from the vicinity. The Mann children recognized many famous movie stars and other celebrities that were in the audience.

Other doings with the Mann family were a Christmas eve cocktail party, when Maurice and Betty hosted their neighbors and friends to an open house that was held in their newly remodeled, elegant and spacious home on Lowell Street, guests that attended were treated to a delicious array of gourmet hors d'oeuvres that happens to be a specialty of Betty's; the guests sampled such delicious edibles as hot crab puffs and New England hot codfish cakes, along with many other exciting tidbits.

Helping with the making of these delicious morsels were Marion Woodie, Ophelia Raymond and Ernestine Wyatt. Guests attending at the open house which was scheduled from 8 to 11 p.m. were Messrs. and Mrs. Stephen Ross, Henry Hutchins, Gerald Sweet, Tyrie Howard, Frank Dawkins, Richard Woodie, Frank Raymond, Willie Evans, Jimmy Roy, George Green, Harry Andrews, Rick Andrews (who were celebrating the birth of their first child, a daughter named Carrie Lynn). Other guests were MMs. Jan Van Hook, Charlie Knight, Ernestine Wyatt, Patsy Gipson, Lula Robinson, Elaine Gaines, Darlene Whitfield, Barbara Lester, Helyn Mitchell, Lovie Risker, Delores Hebert, Dessie Ellis, Celeste Coleman, Martha DeVan and Garnet Noble.

Program in that State Scholarships are highly competitive and are for students with outstanding academic achievement and academic aptitude as measured by the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

The College Opportunity Grant Program is for disadvantaged students with high potential but who are identified by factors other than test scores.

Applications have been sent to all high schools within the State of California. Completed applications must be submitted to the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, 714 P Street, Sacramento, California 95814, by midnight February 15.

Mission's Services Were Unique

Old Mission San Antonio, near the town of Jolon, was once again the setting for a unique Christmas observance on December 24.

The Old Mission, which has preserved much of the peace and beauty of its earliest days, was illumined by flickering torchlights as visitors from far and near joined with costumed shepherds in a touch-light procession that wound through the mission arches and gardens to the entrance of the historic church.

There, the participants paused before the traditional Nativity Crib with life-size figures of the Holy Family and living animals.

There, an ancient ceremony, the Blessing of the Crib, took place before the procession entered the Old Mission Church for the Christmas Midnight Mass in which all raised their voices in songs of praise and thanksgiving.

This annual event, which attracts people of all faiths, is all the more inspiring because Old Mission San Antonio has retained much of the charm of its early California days.

Set in the picturesque Valley of the Oaks, guarded by Serra Peak, the old Mission's surroundings are much the same as they were in 1771, when Padre Junipero Serra called the Indians to worship by ringing the bell he had hung from an oak tree.

People of all faiths attended and participated in the touch-light procession, which began at 11:30 p.m. and in the Midnight Mass.

OLDEST - Eva Stevens (left) and J.B. Grier were honored at California Association of Residential Care Homes' Christmas Party as being oldest man and woman in attendance. Each was given gift, which was presented by girl scouts, who helped with party.

CARCH Hosts Party For Elderly

Recently, the Marina Grange opened its doors for the second Christmas party ever held in Monterey County by the California Association of Residential Care Homes. This was a proud day for Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, owner Cooks Memorial Home Seaside, who is State Director at Large, and Monterey Director of the California Association of Residential Care Homes.

As the doors swung open and the guests were arriving, so were cars with generous donations of cookies, punch, candy and all the other things that help to make a successful party. Invitations were sent to all Monterey County Licensed Homes, Non-licensed Homes, Family Care Homes, Retarded Children's Homes, Senior Citizens Clubs, inviting operators, their residents and relatives.

Reverend B. McAllister graciously acted as Master of Ceremonies for the program. The program was opened by the showing of the colors by Cub Scouts, Den 4 Pac 80 under the direction of Mrs. Messick.

Rev. McAllister followed by leading the guest in the Christian Salute to the Flag.

Rev. George Lutz from The First United Methodist Church of Pacific Grove gave the invocation, which was followed by the Cantata "Joy to the World," written by John Peterson, sung by choir from Rev. Mildon's Assembly of God Church in Seaside. Rev. Mildon explained the meaning of Aloha and his experience in Hawaii and led his choir in singing Aloha.

The story of the Poor Boy at Christmas was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Virginia Reams. The birth of Christpageant was dramatized by the girl scouts, Troop 2113 under the direction of our beloved hard-working Erna Phillips, who also led the singing of Jingle Bells.

Last, but not least, under the direction of Jun Santi Maria, the Youth group from the St. Francis Xavier Church, Seaside, sang several songs, among which were "Put a Little Love in Your Heart" and "When Will It Ever End."

Gift awards were furnished by Freemont, Ord Terrace and Pacific Grove Pharmacies; Doll House Kurlly Cut Beauty Shop Mrs. Younger, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Matthews. Something like forty gifts went to the lucky numbers.

The gift for the eldest guests went to Eva Stevens.

Convention Is Success

"Imagine the satisfaction you would get to be referred to in an inspired letter as a conqueror!"

An excited crowd of delegates and friends, numbering more than 2339, was on hand to hear Lyle E. Reusch, District Representative for Jehovah's Witnesses in Central California, speak at the County Fairgrounds in Watsonville. He continued, "You can be a world conqueror right now!"

Reusch was not speaking of political conquest. He told his audience: "Neither of the major blocs of nations striving for physical conquest of the world will succeed in doing so. Instead of East or West conquering, both will be brought to their end, crushed by the God-ordained conqueror, Jesus Christ."

Then, as though speaking to each person present on a personal level, Reusch continued, "Jesus endured mental and physical persecution to conquer the world's influences. True Christians, following Jesus' example, have in the past and continue to the present to conquer the world. You must overcome the religious and political pressures of the world if you would be blessed as a conqueror. You will meet the challenge and conquer the world and your reward for conquering will be peace eternal." Reusch's remarks were made during the featured public talk, "Who Will Conquer

The World In The 1970's?" Other highlights of the convention included the addition of 77 new ministers to the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's Witnesses. After pursuing an intensive course of Bible study and practical preaching experience these new ministers presented themselves for mass ordination ceremonies.

Changes Are Proposed in Insurance

Reduction of the ever-increasing costs of auto insurance is a must and can be accomplished if approached on a total concept basis.

Richard V. Patton, vice president general manager of the Inter-Insurance Bureau of the California State Automobile Association, said recently that, despite the fact that part of the increase in auto insurance rates is caused by inflation, there are several things that can and should be done to lower the admittedly high cost of auto insurance.

First, the number of auto accidents and the severity of these accidents, two prime factors in high insurance costs, must and can be reduced, Patton said. This can be accomplished, he further stated, by improving our highway safety principles which have been effective in reducing the accident rate on freeways and other modern highways.

Second, the number of accidents can and must be reduced by controlling the drinking driver, Patton said. Alcohol is involved in at least half of all fatal auto accidents and much stricter controls for arresting and convicting drunken drivers must be adopted.

A stricter driver licensing program is also needed, he added, which removes all physically and psychologically unfit to drive from the highways.

"The severity of injuries in automobile collisions must continue to be reduced by improved vehicle design," Patton said. "However, the biggest cost of insurance claims today is not for serious accidents but rather for repairing damage to autos incurred in relatively minor accidents. Tests show that bumpers do not give any protection even in five and ten mile-per-hour crashes with some cars. The average damage even in such low speed crashes amounts to $300 to $800. The fragility of the cars and the high cost of both parts and labor are responsible for the expense, and the auto manufacturers must produce cars that are more durable in such common collisions and design them so that repairs can be made easily and for less cost."

Patton outlined three other steps which should be taken to reduce the cost of auto insurance.

First, eliminate much of the duplicate payment whereby a person injured in an accident claims benefits under his medical payments coverage, as well as any other policies which he has, and that of the other party involved in the accident.

Second, regulate the contingency fee attorneys charge in auto accident cases. These fees tend to inflate the amount of damages.

Third, remove minor personal injury claims from the courts, settling them on a first-party basis to control the high administrative and legal costs, reducing the cost of coverage.

Patton also discounted the proposal that lower insurance premiums could be achieved if the government took over the auto insurance field, pointing out that government-operated agencies have not achieved any cost savings in those areas where they have taken over from private enterprise.

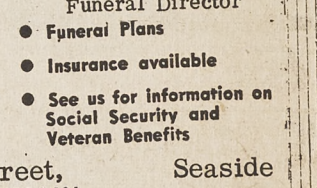

The Speaker's Bureau of the Monterey Committee for Environmental Information (MCEI) has announced the availability of qualified scientists equipped to speak on the following issues relevant to science and the environmental crisis: water pollution, pesticides, sewage, urban planning, population environmental costs of power production, environmental costs of weapons technology, noise pollution and endangered species.

The Monterey CEI, an affiliate of the national Scientists' Institute for Public Information, with offices in New York and Monterey, is one of a number of groups of concerned scientists and citizens throughout the country who offer the public the best available information on science-related public issues in a manner unencumbered by personal or political judgment.

While the information is freely available to all, the committee invites an honorarium for its speakers to enable the bureau to operate.

Speaking engagements may be arranged by calling 372-7798, Monday through Friday, from 1-5 p.m. or by writing Monterey CEI, c/o Monterey Peninsula College, 980 Fremont, Monterey, California, 93940.
